David Carambat passed away on Thursday morning, October 13, 2016 in Metairie, LA., at the age of 52. He was born in Chalmette, LA., to the late Victorin and Barbara Malmstrom Carambat. He was preceded in death by his wife Donna Petitfils Carambat. He is survived by his 2 sons Timothy and Jordan Carambat, 6 siblings Roberta Alongi, Elizabeth Hellbach, Linda Taylor, John Carambat, Michael Carambat and Vicky Frisby. He is also survived by many cousins, nieces, nephews, and friends. David was known to many for his creative mind, innovative designs in hovercraft design and amphibious vehicle design. He was known as a dear friend to all. He finally has rejoined the love of his life in eternity. He was a loving father, a dear friend, and to only one, a husband. He will be certainly missed by all. May he rest in peace.

“ I only knew David a short time and only through the internet and his love of amphibious vehicles and hovercraft. If it wasn't for him I would not have driven myself forward with my own development work and for his guidance, I will always be eternally grateful. The world has lost a great mind and a guiding light. My thoughts are with his friends and family at this time.
